

Class II D2 Malocclusion Case with Complete Deep Bite and Supplemental Tooth in the Lower Jaw

Amal H Abuaffan*

Department of Orthodontic, Pedodontics and Preventive Dentistry, Faculty of Dentistry, Khartoum University, Khartoum, Sudan

* Corresponding author: Amal H Abuaffan, Department of Orthodontic, Pedodontics and Preventive Dentistry, Faculty of Dentistry, Khartoum University, Khartoum, Sudan, Tel: +249912696035; E-mail: amalabuaffan@yahoo.com

Clinical Presentation

Intra oral image of Sudanese girl 17 years old (Figures 1-5) with:

Typical Class II D2 malocclusion.

Complete deep bite.

In the upper jaw left side, 5 mm extra spaces distal to the permanent canine.

In the lower jaw right side, lingually erupted extra lateral incisor tooth which resemble the permanent one (Supplemental) with 90 degree rotation..

Figure 1: Frontal view.

Figure 2: Upper jaw.

Figure 3: Lower jaw.

Figure 4: Right side.

Figure 5: Left side.